WELCOME TO TALES OF TEA AT ST MARY'S GUILDHALL

St Mary's Guildhall is one of the finest surviving medieval guildhalls in the country, with its rich history of partying, power and propaganda. St Mary's Guildhall has acted as the centre of power in England during the War of the Roses, housed the crown jewels, been the prison of Mary Queen of Scots and hosted famous literary figures, such as George Eliot.

Running beneath the great hall where the famous Coventry Tapestry still hangs today is the Undercroft, where Tales of Tea is now located. The Undercroft would have historically been used to store a range of items over the centuries from food, to building materials and even barrels of gunpowder during the English Civil War. With direct access to the kitchen, the Undercroft was ideal to store food in preparation for feasts.

Today visitors can enjoy breakfast, brunch, lunch and afternoon tea in this atmospheric venue. If you have any special dietary requirements, please do not hesitate to ask a member of our team who will be more than happy to help. A full selection of bar drinks and a wine list to complement your afternoon tea is available.
